Undergraduate Program Course Map Department of Political Science General Courses (12) Specialized Courses (26) Liberal Education (15) 1 R(3,3) A1 1 R(2,2) 1 R(2,2) 1 R(2,2) 1 R(3,3) Literature and Arts Chinese The Constitution & Government of the ROC Introduction to Public Administration Political Science International Relations 1 R(3,3) A2 2 R(2,0) 2 R(4,0) X Foreign Languages Historical Thinking Comparative Government and Politics (I) Social Statistics 1 R(0,0) A3 Online English Program (I), (II) World Civilization 4 R(2,0) / (0,2) Chinese Politics / Α7 1~4 R 4 The Political Economy of People's Republic of China [select one] Materials Science Physical Education (I), (II), (III), (IV) 8A 1,2 R 0 Life Sciences Required Courses Student Service Education (I), (II) Physical Education courses are not counted toward graduation Political Theory Division International Relations Division Public Administration Division Comparative Government Comparative Government Economics (b)(I) and Politics (II) and Politics (II) Economics (b)(II) History of International Relations (I) Research Methods of Research Methods of Social Science Social Science History of International Relations (II) Public Policy (I) Western Political Philosophy (I) Foreign Relations of R.O.C. Public Policy (II) Western Political Philosophy (II) International Law (I) Administrative Law (I) Chinese Political Philosophy (I) International Law (II) Administrative Law (II) Chinese Political Philosophy (II) The Decision Making and Analysis Local Government and The Political Economy of of Foreign Policy Management / Human Resources Development in Taiwan International Organizations Management in the Public Sector / Second Foreign Language Financial Management in the Public Modern Political Thought (I) / Sector / Public Management / Theories of Comparative Introduction to Western Political Nonprofit Organization Management / Politics (I) [select one] Philosophy / Introduction to Chinese Digital Government for Public Political Philosophy [select one] Management / Public Opinion Survey / Introductory Sociology / General Cost-benefit Analysis / Applied Psychology / Introduction to Economics (b)(I) / Economics (b)(II) / Regression Analysis / Seminar on Anthropology / Introduction to Issues in International Economics and Program Evaluation / Seminar on History / Elementary Logic / Trade / International Political Economy / Communication Policy and Media Law Economics [select two] Political Economy / Seminar on Political [select four] Economy of East Asia [select two] Recommended year of study Required courses Credits (Fall, Spring) Courses with recitation Elective Courses 2 R (4,0) X

Course title

Master's Program Course Map - Graduate Institute of Political Science

Restrictions on Elective Courses & Credit Requirements Required Courses for the Minor Field Seminar on Chinese Restrictions on elective Political Thoughts courses: None. Seminar on Selected Topics Political Credit requirements for the in Western Political Thought Thought Field minor field: At least three Seminar on Modern courses, including one Western Political Thought required course. Seminar on Preparing Dissertation and Theses Seminar on the International Restrictions on elective Relation Theory courses: At least three Seminar on Foreign Policy International courses in the major field. Analysis Relations Field Credit requirements for the Seminar on Problems of minor field: At least two International Law courses. Seminar on Preparing Master Master Dissertation and Theses Thesis Thesis Proposal Defense Seminar on the Political Economy of Taiwan's Restrictions on elective Development courses: At least two Seminar on Chinese National courses in the major field. Political Economy Credit requirements for the Politics Field Seminar on Cross-strait minor field: At least two Relations courses. Seminar on Preparing Dissertation and Theses Restrictions on elective Seminar on Theories of courses: None. Comparative Politics Comparative Credit regulations for the Seminar on Area Studies minor field: At least three Politics Field Statistical Methods for the courses, including one Social Science required course. Seminar on Preparing Dissertation and Theses

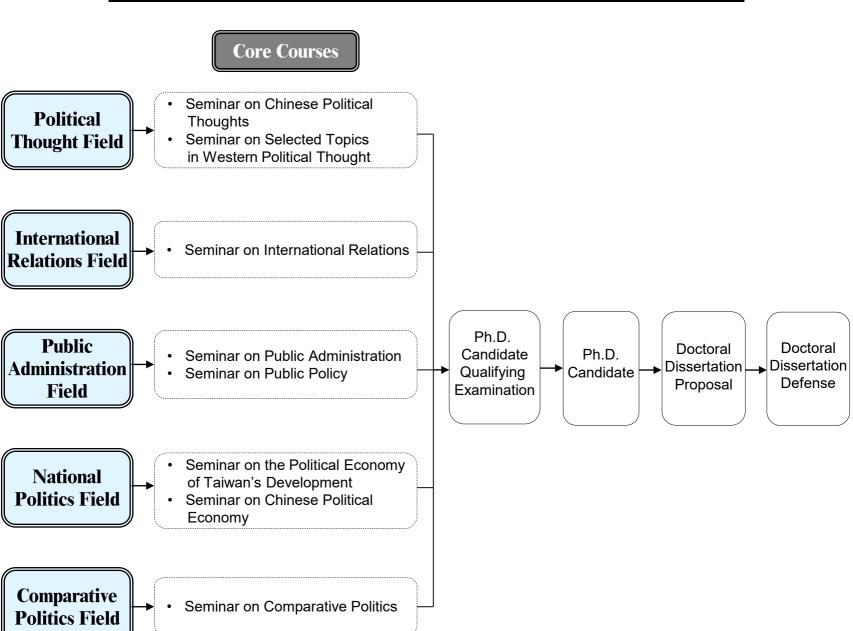

Master's students should take related courses in the major and minor fields.

Minimum graduation credits for each major field are: 25 credits for the political thought field; 25 credits for the international relations field; 25 credits for the national politics field; 26 credits for the comparative politics field.

Students majoring in the international relations field are required to complete 6 credits of a second foreign language, which will not be counted toward graduation credits.

Required courses for each major field and credit requirements for the minor field are as shown above.

Ph.D. Program Course Map - Graduate Institute of Political Science

- 1) PhD students are required to take core courses in the major field and at least one core course in the minor field. Each student is required to take at least four courses in their major field, including at least two doctoral courses (course number beginning with D). For the minor field, students are required to take at least two courses, including at least one doctoral course (course number beginning with D). Minimum graduation credits for PhD students are 18 credits.
- Before applying for the oral defense, students must satisfy the following criteria:

 Present at least one research paper at a domestic or foreign conference.
 Publish at least one article in an SSCI or TSSCI journal (as a single author or as the first author), or publish at least two peer-reviewed journal articles or book chapters (as a single author or as the first author), or publish a peer-reviewed book.